WILLIAM H. BARBER

SPLICED Surprise has reached such dizzy heights that the younger generations of ringers may be unaware of some of the great performances in the past with the humble Stedman Triples.

In Stedman Triples one encounters about the maximum number of working bells (seven), for there is no treble performing a regular work as in the vast majority of other methods. In Stedman on higher numbers the additional bells are fixed bells, and peals of Caters and Cinques have usually only four working bells for most of the peal. In Surprise Major there is, after all, a regular treble and the tenors are usually together so that there the number of working bells is usually five.

The standard compositions can hardly be regarded as elementary conducting, but there are several other compositions which present even greater problems in the mere memorising of the calling. One of these is Carter's 'odd bob' peal, which recent correspondence shows to be still quite a rarity in the peal columns, even when the conductor rings the seventh and has his eyes wide open. How much greater a feat, therefore, was the performance of William H. Barber at St. Mary's, Gateshead, on February 21st, 1908, when he conducted the 'odd bob' peal from a non-observation bell while blindfold! The 50th anniversary can hardly be allowed to pass without recalling what must surely rank as one of the greatest individual feats in ringing, especially on tower bells.

The years have taken their toll of the ringers, and the Rev. Canon C. Carew Cox is the sole survivor of that band. He it was who reminded me of the anniversary, and I am pleased to note that he has contributed some personal memories of that occasion, for here on Tyneside we now have no direct link with that band.

St. Mary's, Gateshead, bells have been rehung twice since 1908, but on neither occasion has recasting been allowed—a matter for regret rather than congratulation—for the bells cannot be described as a musical ring or in any way ideally suited to such a task.

A feat such as this requires an extremely acute musical ear, that I suppose one possesses or does not. Bill Barber certainly had that, as one small incident will testify. With two others I was ringing handbells in the belfry of St. John's, Newcastle, and we had reached a hiatus with the bells temporarily stopped, waiting for a missing bell, when Bill's voice came up the stairs, calling: 'Two, two.' He had entered the church, recognised the method, and was able to put things right. My acquaintance with him began when he was well into his sixties and partially deaf. I can only wonder what he was like at the height of his powers.

The acuteness of his hearing is also illustrated by the information given to me by a much closer acquaintance of Bill's, Mr. W. J. Davidson, that Bill himself did not regard this particular performance as his greatest in Stedman Triples. He assigned pride of place to the Law James seven-part. At a Johnson dinner early in the century Sir Arthur Heywood had suggested that there was still scope for originality in Stedman Triples by the composition of a peal in seven equal parts. Bill Barber said that if such a composition were produced he would tackle it. Law James produced a composition and Bill Barber called it. Evidently, therefore, the inability to see the ropes did not present the same problem to Bill Barber that it does to others of us.

In paying a humble tribute to a genius of bellringing I cannot help but muse on the desirability of having such an acute ear, for surely, when the striking deteriorates the suffering must be even more intense. Perhaps like the little girl with the curl in the middle of her forehead: 'When it is good it is very, very good; but when it is bad it is horrid!'

The bells of St. Alphege's, Canterbury, are rung exclusively for Sunday services by scholars of King's School. Since their ringing has started, states our correspondent, the church congregations have doubled. This is a fine achievement considering that the church is virtually in the shadow of the Cathedral. Two scholars of the school rang their first peal on the bells on February 8th.

We thank the West Dorset Branch for their generosity. They have decided to donate 10s. to 'The Ringing World' with each account of quarterly meetings.

We regret to learn of the death of Mr. W. H. Webb, who for 25 years has been Ringing Master at Halesowen. A course of his favourite method, Kent Treble Bob Major, and a quarter of Stedman Triples, was rung at his funeral with the bells half-muffled.

Last week the six bells at Wonersh, Surrey, were removed by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank for recasting. Hopes are entertained of a ring of eight similar to St. Olave's, Hart Street. The parish has not yet issued an appeal but Wonersh ringers have started the fund by raising £50.

Next Sunday, the B.B.C. Television Service will broadcast at 9.45 a.m. the Sung Communion Service from St. John-the-Baptist's, Hillingdon, Middlesex. The fine ring of ten bells will play its part and will be heard at the beginning of the broadcast. The service touch will be Grandsire Caters, rung, with one exception, by the local band. Encouraged by the Vicar (Rev. F. C. Tyler), who takes a great interest and is keen on good striking, St. John's band are making steady progress. Three or four keen youngsters are a great help, and the band are beginning to emulate the enthusiasm of their forefathers who rang three peals of Grandsire Triples at St. John's in 1733.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Donald H. Niblett, by his peal at East Hagbourne, became the sixth member to ring 50 peals for the Oxford University Society. Other members with this distinction are John E. Spice (96), Mrs. P. T. Robbins (87), Peter Border (65), Wilfrid F. Moreton (61) and Robin G. Turner (51).

The peal at Walsall, recorded this week, was rung as a birthday compliment to Miss Stella Hughes.

Less than eight members attended the monthly meeting of the South and West District of the Middlesex County Association at Hampton on February 15th. The secretary urges members to make a great effort to attend the meeting at Uxbridge on March 15th.

An old gardener, who, when his boss said to him, 'Don't those bells sound lovely?' replied with a wry affirmative and then added: 'But I likes them, say, three fields away.' His master was not long left in doubt, for the old man continued: 'Chesterfield, Sheffield and Huddersfield.'—Told by the Vicar of Holmes Chapel to the Crewe Branch.

The peal of Rutland Surprise at Loughborough Bellfoundry on February 19th completed 200 peals on these bells by Ernest Morris, of Leicester, he being the first to reach this total. Included are peals of Doubles, Minor, Triples, Major, Caters and Royal, and long lengths of 13,440 (conducted), 10,976, 9,760 (400 singles c.), 9,600, 9,120 (c.), twice 7,008 (c.)

Mr. Ernest Morris has resigned his post as verger of St. Margaret's, Leicester, after an association of nearly 20 years with Canon E. N. Ducker. He is continuing his services with St. Margaret's as registrar. Mr. Morris has handed over his extensive library and lantern slides to the P.C.C. We hope to publish tributes to his work in our next issue.

MUSIC IN BELL-RINGING

By DESMOND PAINTER

MR. CHANT'S front page article in 'The Ringing World' of January 3rd, 1958, propounds an interesting thesis which seeks to justify 6-5's at backstroke in Minor on the grounds that the equivalent sound is a recognised progression in music and that in any case 6-5's sound no worse than, for instance, 6-2's, their avoidance being a matter merely of long-standing prejudice. Mr. Chant's challenge to the many abhorers of the 6-5's at backstroke to justify their views raises again the old question of what constitutes good and bad music in bell-ringing.

Many of the great figures of the Exercise have held decided views on this subject, and Mr. Nolan Golden touched on some of them in his article on 'Composition Qualities' in 'The Ringing World' of August 9th, 1957. He did not go very deeply into the matter, however, since his object was rather to explain the meanings of the phrases attached by composers to their peals in order to describe their qualities than to offer an opinion on those qualities themselves.

WHAT IS A 'MUSICAL' CHANGE?

A change can be said to be 'musical' in three senses which may overlap but are distinct:—

(a) In that it is a succession of musical notes.

(b) In that it reproduces the phenomena of what Mr. Chant calls 'ordinary music.'

(c) In that the listener finds its sound pleasant.

Used in the sense (a) the word 'musical' is, though accurate, of no value to us since all changes must by definition be musical.

Taken in its wider and most literal, sense (b) is, of course, equivalent to sense (a), since any change could in theory be a reproduction of a succession of notes in a piece of music. We can most usefully limit this use of the word 'musical' by considering first, what 'ordinary' music the bells are capable of reproducing, and second, whether all music so reproduced is in fact 'musical' in any real sense.

The capacity of the bells to reproduce 'ordinary' music is severely limited by their nature, and by the nature of change ringing. Our bells (with a few eccentric exceptions, such as the ring of five at Manudin, in Essex, where the tenor is a semi-tone sharp) are tuned in the diatonic major scale.* This means that we can at once ignore all chromatic and most modal music, which the bells cannot reproduce at all. Further limitations are imposed by the fact that a ring of bells is fixed in pitch and in key, which means that it is impossible to modulate as in music from one key to another, and by the fact that each of the eight notes of the scale can be sounded once only in each change.

It is apparent from this that the number of musical phenomena which can be reproduced in ringing is small. Furthermore, not all of these phenomena will in fact be 'musical' because although technically reproducible on the bells they will be divorced from the context which explains them. Disregard of this fact has, with respect, led Mr. Chant astray. He seeks to justify 8-7's at backstroke by reference to examples of the same thing from music. (He might have added 'The Bells of St. Mary's,' a favourite with handbell tune ringers.) In fact, however, none of his examples is a correct analogy.

DO 8-7's OCCUR IN MUSIC?

The progressions which Mr. Chant quotes are not tonic-supertonic progressions at all. In 'Stephanos' (A. & M. 254), which is in the key of G major, the progression is a tonic-dominant one, in which the note A (equivalent to the 7th bell) appears not in its capacity as the root of the supertonic chord but in its capacity as the fifth of the dominant chord. In both 'Ewing' (A. & M. 228), which is in the key of D major, and in the slow movement of Schubert's 'Unfinished' Symphony, which is in the key of E major, the progression is from the submediant (the relative minor key) to the dominant, and the notes D and E in the hymn tune and E and F sharp in the Schubert Symphony are respectively the third of the submediant chord and the fifth of the dominant chord. It is quite wrong to regard any of these (or the hundreds of similar progressions which are as common as blackberries in music) as tonic-supertonic progressions. They are nothing more than examples of one of the most universal characteristics of a diatonic tune—the halfway modulation to the dominant key. A glance at the bass part, or the 'cello part in the Schubert Symphony (itself one of Schubert's loveliest tunes) will show that this is so.

A further point of distinction between Mr. Chant's examples and the 8-7's at backstroke in change-ringing is the rhythmical one. Each of the progressions that Mr. Chant calls in aid in an anacrusis—that is, a weak beat followed by a strong one—coming to rest on the dominant chord in a half close. In ringing, however, the rhythmical effect is to emphasise the bells striking in the odd places at the expense of those striking in the even places (except for the 678's and 748's, where the cadential effect is too strong for the natural rhythm—though not, curiously enough, in the Tittums change itself). An 8-7 is therefore a strong beat followed by a weak one, not only not suggesting a cadence, but emphasising the 'left in the air' feeling which helps to make the 8-7's so unpopular.

The fact is that tunes, or even any recognisable part of them except the final full close, cannot be reproduced in ringing. I shall go on to consider in my next article what musical phenomena can be reproduced by the bells.

*Only a ring of eight bells, of course, forms a true diatonic scale, but smaller and larger numbers are merely reductions or extensions of the scale. The examples in these articles are given in terms of a ring of eight unless otherwise stated and must be adjusted for other numbers of bells.

†It may be as well to explain that the notes of a chord are described by their distance upwards from the root or bottom note. Thus in the major third C-E-G, C (the tonic note) is the root, E (the mediant note) is an interval of a third above the root and the third of the chord, G, is the fifth.

A NEWCASTLE SILVER JUBILEE

A company of 35 attended a dinner to mark the silver jubilee of SS. James and Basil's, Fenham, Society on February 7th. The Rev. J. R. H. Prophet presided and speeches were given by the Rev. W. Forsyth, Messrs. N. H. Hewett, R. W. A. McDonald, Kenneth Arthur (who was hon. secretary of the Guild from 1933 to 1957), J. A. Ainsworth and J. Anderson (who rang in the first touch and first peal on the bells).

A course of Stedman Triples was rung by John Anderson 1-2, Kenneth Arthur 3-4, Denis A. Bayles 5-6, J. Alan Ainsworth 7-8. Songs were sung by Mr. Jack Wilson, accompanied by Mr. John Healy.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

North and East District Report a Good Year

Sixty members were present at the service, tea and business during the annual meeting of the North and East District of the Association, which was held at St. Giles-in-the-Fields, Holborn, on February 8th. Several more ringers joined the proceedings during day, when the bells of St. James', Clerkenwell, St. Gabriel's, Warwick Square, and St. Giles' were available.

The service in St. Giles' was conducted by the Association's president, the Rev. G. C. Taylor, who gave a thought-inspiring address on the acceptance of, and belief in, the miracles of Our Lord.

At the business meeting the hon. secretary submitted a report, which was well received.

Thirty-two ringing and ten non-resident life members had been elected. Acknowledgment of many years of loyal and devoted service to St. Andrew's, Enfield, by Mr. I. J. Attwater, was recorded, and although he now resides in Ilford he is still rendering assistance to his old tower. Through the splendid efforts of Messrs. E. J. Rowe, B. Bladon and W. A. Theobald, St. Ann's, Stamford Hill, now possessed a pleasant light ring of eight, made by the addition of two treble bells. Structural defects in the tower were temporarily preventing any ringing at Harrow-on-the-Hill. A very encouraging total of 138 quarter peals had been returned from 16 towers, thus directly reflecting the expansion of ringing for church services. Stamford Hill received congratulations for again heading the list with a total of 38, these being in a large variety of methods and all rung by members of the local band.

All officers were re-elected except Mr. T. J. Lock, the retiring hon. secretary. He did not seek re-election because he had been elected the Association's general secretary. Although temporarily indisposed and unable to be present, Mr. C. E. Slade was unanimously elected District secretary.

Mr. Cutler said that the opportunity could not pass without Mr. Lock being thanked for his work as District secretary over a period of 19 years, and this was endorsed by prolonged handclapping.

Mr. Lock replied by saying that he had enjoyed his period as an officer, which had extended over a period of 23 years because from 1935 to 1939 he was District Ringing Master. He thanked the District officers for the work and team spirit and paid tribute to his wife for her support and sympathetic contribution.

The following new members were elected: Miss L. Fletcher, Miss M. Hawkins, M. I. Hawkins (Enfield), Miss E. Bevis, R. Bevis (Kingsbury), Miss M. Harte (St. Olave's, Hart Street), Miss P. Rowe, Miss L. Hawes (Stamford Hill), H. Miller, W. C. G. Wainwright (Southgate), G. Howells (Stammore), J. M. Steele (Upper Clapton), W. G. Wilson (Ealing) unattached, Mrs. R. L. Armstrong (Ilford) non-resident life member.

Thanks were accorded to clergy and all others connected with the day's proceedings, whereupon Mr. H. G. Hart, vice-president, declared the business of the meeting closed and thus permitted a further hour's ringing.

Vancouver Bells Ring Again

Last June, Mr. Anthony J. M. Collins, who used to ring at Merstham, Redhill, Kingwood and Reigate, arrived at Vancouver. His first act was to find a job as an estimator for a contracting company; his second to set the bells in the tower of Holy Rosary Cathedral ringing again after a silence of nearly five years.

His appeal for volunteers last August was answered by 24 persons, but before anyone so much as placed a hand on a sally Tony put the group to work scrubbing the dirt and grime from the bells and brick walls of the belfry. There were also repairs to be made, bearings to be greased, broken stays mended and the ringing chamber whitewashed.

Mr. Collins, who has been elected president of the Vancouver Society of Change Ringers, writes that the Society was formed in September and they have a group of nine ringers from the old country (only six regular attenders) and over 20 learners, some of whom in less than four months were able to ring fairly good rounds for the traditional radio broadcast of ringing in the New Year, which had lapsed for over five years.

The Society rang for the visit of the Queen Mother on January 28th, and has a big programme ahead as this is the centennial year of British Columbia. Included in these days is the arrival of Princess Margaret in Vancouver next July.

The bells of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary will always be associated with the name of Alfred C. Limpus. It was he who not only got the bells hung for ringing and had five recast in England, but in 1906 trained a local band. The first peal on the bells and in Canada was rung on July 1st, 1911. Since his death in 1952 until last year, the bells have been mute.

Now a new chapter is being written, and all readers will wish president Tony Collins and his band many years of happy ringing in the service of Church and State.

YOUNG RINGER AND PEAL WEEK

Dear Sir,—In reply to your correspondent's letter ('The Ringing World,' February 7th, 1958), concerning a young ringer ringing an 'excessive' number of peals in just over a week, may I be allowed to say, 'What utter nonsense!'

This letter is typical of ringers of the old school, whose voice of jealousy is saying, 'I know I have had my day, and I am going to do my best to see that you do not have yours.'

I am sure the young lad concerned was not forced to ring in peals in which he did not wish to participate.

It is to be hoped that your correspondent will concern himself solely with his own personal affairs, and cease his wilful interference into the affairs of ringers who obviously have more drive and enthusiasm than he has or ever will have.—Yours sincerely,

TREVOR N. J. BAILEY.

Beeches, Suffolk.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

West Dorset Branch

The music of the delightful though odd-struck eight at Whitechurch Canonicorum was heard to good touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Cambridge Surprise Major at the quarterly meeting of the Branch.

Canon Havelock-Davidson conducted the service and gave the address, and Canon C. Carew Cox read the lesson. Tea followed in the reading room. Twenty-three sat down, including visitors from North Dorset and Wimborne Branches.

Prior to the business meeting, Canon Cox said a few words about the late Frederick Precey, who had often attended the meetings, and was one who had done much for ringing. The meeting stood in silence. Other points from the meeting were: April meeting at Burton Bradstock on 19th; Guild Festival at Dorchester on May 17th; that 10s. be donated to 'The Ringing World' with each account of quarterly meetings.

Canon Cox had the congratulations of the meeting on the 50th anniversary of the peal of Stedman Triples, Carter's odd bob, conducted by the late W. H. Barber, blindfolded. Canon Cox is now the sole survivor of this band. He gave a few of his memories of the peal and the two attempts before it was scored.

The meeting also expressed its pleasure at the news that Mr. Roger Keeley was now the Master of the University of London Society.

STEPNEY GUILD OF RINGERS

As briefly announced last week, Stepney Guild of Ringers, at their annual dinner on February 8th, made a presentation to Mr. T. G. Fox, in recognition of his long service to the Guild, of a fountain pen.

Mr. H. G. Weedon recalled Mr. Fox's work and mentioned he became a ringer in 1928, and in 1937, when a new Guild was formed, he was elected captain, a position he had held until now. Since his removal to Romford he had found it increasingly difficult to make the journey and, therefore, he had reluctantly resigned.

His brother, Len, has been elected captain, and Mr. H. G. Weedon, of Toronto House, Ocean Estate, Stepney, E.11, is the new secretary. Tom leaves a good band, a wonderful example and a belfry with a happy atmosphere.

Another presentation is to be made to Tom on behalf of the congregation at the next meeting of the Parochial Church Council.

THE LADIES' GUILD

The annual meeting of the Midland District was held, together with a Leicester Diocesan Guild meeting, on February 1st, at St. John-the-Divine, Leicester.

After ringing in the afternoon the Vicar held a most helpful service.

The two Guilds split up for their meetings after tea. All the Ladies' Guild officers were re-elected and the vice-president (Miss Thompson) thanked everybody for the work they had done. Five new members were elected and it is felt this is a good start for 1958. The next meeting will be at Ruddington on April 19th.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

6-5 AT BACKSTROKE

Dear Sir,—It was interesting to read the letters connected with 6-5's at backstroke. Mr. Moreton's is critical and demands an answer.

The main purpose behind the writing of my letter to the 'R.W.' on this subject was to encourage ringers to listen to what they ring; to examine 6-5's at backstroke and discover for themselves, without being influenced by the opinions of other people, whether the devil is ever so black as he is painted, or indeed in this case if he is at all black.

Too often we hear glib expressions such as: 'There are (or are not) 6-5's at backstroke'; 'Cambridge Major is not a very musical method'; 'Double Norwich (or Yorkshire, etc.) is a musical method'; or, 'It is, unfortunately, an irregular method.' So long as these are expressions based on personal experience I have no objection to them, but the speaker is frequently repeating a cliché that has been handed down from one generation of ringers to another.

'Some scarce advance a reason of their own, But catch the spreading notion of the town.' (If I may quote—or misquote Pope.)

Mr. Moreton and I have had many friendly arguments on the subject of 6-5's, and although I think the reasons he advances against them, like the ones in his letter, are feeble to say the least, nevertheless I respect his opinions on 6-5's because he has heard and examined them. Not in every case willingly!

On some occasions when he has been ringing and I have been calling (open-lead) Minor, I have reversed the tenors to bring out the beauty of the 6-5's! I must admit, however, that if he is on the leading bell at the time the 6-5's are due to appear, he (intentionally) turns the open into temporarily closed leads—a stratagem that merely avoids the issue. Although I have tried hard to follow the reasoning in his letter to the 'R.W.', I still fail to see the connection he tries to establish between 6-5's in hymn tunes at half-cadences and 6-5's at handstroke in ringing.

But perhaps, as Mr. Moreton observes, I am biased.

It is the pause that emphasises the change-ends and whatever the preceding sound pattern may be, it is the final note that lingers most in the musical memory until the next pause-ending.

This is a musical axiom quite apart from its importance in ringing.

With regard to the 'Speed of Ringing,' mentioned on the same page (95), I was amazed to learn from Mr. A. P. Cannon that 'the faster six bells are rung the better they sound.'

Well, well! We live and learn!

It is a pity that there is no means of assessing striking with the same accuracy as assessing speed or we may possibly be reading footnotes of: 'The best struck peal on the bells,' instead of 'the fastest.' I very much doubt whether these two terms would be synonymous!—Yours sincerely,
H. CHANT.

Wakefield, Yorks.

NAMESAKES

Dear Sir,—Some of your readers can claim to have been members of unusual bands or to have rung in unusual peals, e.g., 'John' or 'William,' 'Teacher,' 'Clerical,' 'Verger,' 'All Lady' bands, and so on.

I have been wondering if many readers can claim to have rung six or more peals in the counties or cities of the peals' namesakes—say a peal of 'Cambridge' in Cambridge, 'Oxford' in Oxford, 'London' in London, 'Bristol' in Bristol, 'Double Norwich' in Norwich, 'Lincolnshire' in Lincolnshire, 'Yorkshire' in Yorkshire, 'Kent' in Kent, etc.—Yours truly,
F. MORRIS.

Burghill, Hereford.

OTHER 'FAILURES'

Dear Sir,—May I say how much I enjoyed Mr. H. Allen's little poem entitled 'The Failure.' It expresses the sentiments of every loyal bellringer, and ought to be recited before every peal attempt.

If Mr. Allen is the gentleman better known in another sphere as 'Harry,' then, like the creatures among which he works, the sting is in the tail, viz.:

'He rings on Tuesday, Friday, Monday,
But doesn't come to ring on Sunday.'

There is another category of ringers not included in the above who are equally deserving of castigation, yet who do ring on Sunday. I refer to those who gad about continuing their 'tower-snatching' habit, and are usually welcomed wherever they drop in as they sometimes complete the band or strengthen the ringing. They are not really of assistance, as help given on one isolated occasion is worthless. Such people are deluding themselves if they think they are Sunday service ringers. The only help on Sundays worthy of the name is that which can be relied upon because it is regular. No tower leader can build up and maintain a Sunday service band on the unexpected and rare visits of talented itinerant bellringers.

Many of us would like to be freelancers and enjoy other people's company and bells on Sundays, but a sense of duty prevents this. With the traditional 'freedom of the belfry' which allows these visits and welcome genuine visitors temporarily resident in an area, little, unfortunately, can be done to give these nomadic ringers a sense of responsibility.

As you, sir, recently described it, ringing is a 'dedicated sport,' and it is on Sunday that the first word should have precedence over the second.—Yours faithfully,

W. BIRMINGHAM.

Slough, Bucks.

P.S.—Is not Mr. J. T. Dyke, whose views are much respected generally, rather too damning of birthday ringing? If a loyal member of a band, at his own request, would prefer to celebrate his birthday ringing with his friends and colleagues to 'throwing a party,' or drinking at 'the local,' or going to a show, surely it is very difficult to say him nay. When the mention of an impending birthday is eagerly seized upon as an excuse for a 'quarter' or a peal, then, I believe, Mr. Dyke is justified in his remarks.—W. B.

PEAL RINGERS' PRACTICAL HELP

Dear Sir,—I read with interest 'Paludian's' article on those wicked peal ringers ('Ringing World,' February 14th). I rang my first peal on February 8th and since then I have received nothing but congratulations for myself and the other boy who rang it with me. Many of these good wishes have come from my own band of ringers in the school (I am the captain of the recently-formed King's School band), none of whom can ring a peal as yet.

I heartily agree with 'Paludian' concerning the backbone of English ringing. At the beginning of the term I wrote to the District secretary of the Kent County Association asking for help in teaching my band method ringing. The response has been really wonderful and all the help that has come has been in the form of peal ringers who want to help us. Because of the new field opened up to the learners and those who can ring simple call changes a renewed interest is clearly visible.

I feel justified in agreeing with 'Paludian' about those wicked peal ringers.—Yours sincerely,

NEALE J. MULLER.

Canterbury.

GIVING THE TENOR 'PLENTY OF ROOM'

Dear Sir,—Mr. W. F. Moreton wishes me to explain my term 'giving the tenor plenty of room.' This is difficult but it is obvious that the frequency of sounds should be brought into the matter. The vibrations emitted from the tenor and 5th will be slower than the treble and 2nd, so that to give a slightly wider interval between the tenor and 5th is desirable.

To measure such an interval, which I am expected to do by Mr. Moreton, is well-nigh impossible but if he is a musician he may appreciate a musical analogy. When playing a woodwind instrument amongst a crowd of strings I find that their D sharp is a different note from E flat, and unless the orchestra is balanced by bass and woodwind the strings move into a key of their own.

The difference in pitch is apparently immeasurable, as is the extended interval between the tenor and 5th, but a ringer who listens to the music produced by the bells as distinct from the sound of the bells can make the minute adjustment.

The music on closed leads is quite different from what is produced on open leads; a phrase on the latter lasts merely two changes but on closed leads the phrase extends for many changes, and when the harmonics are superimposed the music is unique.

Mr. Moreton states that I said 'to ring seven blows in two seconds would sound awful.' This is not correct; my letter stated that 'the effect of the 5th coming down on the tenor at that speed would be indescribable.'

The speed at which a ring of bells should be rung depends on the intelligence of the tenor ringer and the co-operation of the other ringers who must ring to him.

I regret the views of Mr. A. P. Cannon on the speed of ringing leave me stunned; I can offer no answer. I am too overwhelmed!

Well, you ringers, jump on the 6-5 Special—there's plenty of room.—Yours faithfully,

N. F. MOXON.

Cawthorne.

GRATEFULLY ACKNOWLEDGED

Dear Sir,—After conversing with ringers in many parts of the country I have not been able to find out why many of our most prolific peal ringers seldom, if ever, seem to appear in the column 'Gratefully Acknowledged.' I wonder if some ringer could supply the answer?—Yours faithfully,
JOSEPH T. BARRETT.
Beaminster.

'PALUDIEN'

Dear Sir,—For the information of your readers, the term 'Paludian' is only applicable to past scholars, according to sex, of either a certain High or Grammar School. Your leader-writer is not so qualified, having been educated in another county. Were he to return to his own particular 'bed of nettles,' his 'backbone' would probably find more exercise than in his present tower.—Yours faithfully,
NOAH BITTE.

VISITORS WOULD BE WELCOME

Dear Sir,—With the lengthening days and the better weather, we expect a lot of ringers are planning their summer outing. May I make a suggestion that here at this somewhat out-of-the-way village in Kent we have a band of young ringers who would really welcome visitors, though we should ask to be coached in method ringing. We practise on Fridays and can manage simple dodging but we would like to get on so that at least we can ring service touches on special occasions.

If there are ringers passing through on a Sunday we manage to ring on first and third Sunday mornings regularly.—Yours truly,

Ash, Kent.

JOHN V. MULLEN.

Dear Sir,—On Feb. 9th yet one more representative of the Press has outraged ringers by his presentation of the story of the attempt on the 40,320; this time the special correspondent of 'The News of the World.'

I write without knowledge of any 'publishing rights' this 'special correspondent' may have obtained, and he may be entitled to present the 'story' in a way he imagines will best suit his readers, but surely it is the duty of ringers to reserve their own rights.

To imply that umpires were counting each change, to say they were 'tugging, tugging, tugging' and slanging each other, with sweat on their brow (6 cwt. tenor) is offensive in the view of most ringers.

If these attempts on records result only in stupid articles which debase our art in the celebrated 'Sunday Press,' it were better for ringing if 'freedom' for this type of 'special correspondent' were confined to a desert island.—Yours faithfully,

FRED PRICE.

Bournemouth.

'THOSE WICKED PEAL RINGERS'

Dear Sir,—The writer of the front page article in the issue of February 14th mentions hobbies and pastimes in solving crossword puzzles, winning cups at a horticultural show, climbing mountains and being on the winning side in a football match, but he must understand that these things are not consecrated to the glory of God.

I am not against peal ringing, as I have rung a few myself, good and bad, but what I am most interested in is why the writer is ashamed to put his name to what he has written.

I think it would make our paper more interesting if we could have the names of these writers. Not so very long ago you would not accept an article under a nom de plume. What is the difference?—Yours, etc.,

W. H. HOWE.

Exeter.

SATURN TREBLE BOB

Dear Sir,—As a member of the Saturn Treble Bob peal band I was glad to see at last Mr. Moreton's anti-missile missile, which has so successfully exploded the missiles launched at the method.

Saturn is simple and elegant in construction and very musical in effect. It is easy to ring, yet has plenty of interest to last a peal; and, in fact, on November 30th it was thoroughly enjoyable throughout.

In these matters we should remember that rules are made to serve us and not we to serve them. If they are bad or have outgrown their usefulness they should be changed.

With Messrs. Moreton and Leale I suggest that the Council Decisions in this field are bad, and therefore should be changed.—Yours sincerely,

F. ERIC ROBERTS.

Reigate, Surrey.

Herts County Association

Hadley was chosen for the February meeting of the St. Albans District. Ringing began soon after 3 p.m. and continued until the service, which was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. Preb. H. C. Harland).

Tea was taken in a nearby cafe, 18 members being present. The business meeting was conducted by the Ringing Master, Mr. G. Dodds, as the secretary was unavoidably absent.

Methods rung ranged from Grand sire to Cambridge. It is hoped to arrange the next meeting at Sandridge.

M. A. C.

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

A new secretary was elected at the annual meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch held at St. Michael's, Teignmouth, on February 15th. Mr. J. E. Lilley, who presided, was unanimously re-elected chairman, but Mr. A. L. Bennett did not seek re-election as secretary and treasurer. He agreed, however, to act as assistant secretary and 'Ringing World' representative. Mr. D. Roberts, of Babbacombe, is his successor. Appointed to serve on the General Committee were Mrs. D. E. Hood, Messrs. A. Goss and A. Radcliff. Two new members were elected from Babbacombe and two also from: St. Michael's. The president (Preb. Cox) presented certificates to Miss Blake (Townstal) and Mr. Radcliff (Coffinswell).

The holding of the Guild annual meeting on Whit Monday was discussed and it was resolved to support a suggestion that this should be held on the Saturday after Whit Monday.

The Rev. J. C. M. Scott, who gave the address at the service, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. D. E. Hood), bade farewell to the Branch: he has been appointed to a living near Holsworthy.

At the conclusion of the meeting the members returned to the tower where a peal board recording a peal of Plain Bob Major rung at the beginning of the year was dedicated by the president, and a move was afterwards made to Bishopsteignton for further ringing.

Subject to permission, the next meeting will be held at Paignton on April 19th.

BARNSELY & DISTRICT SOCIETY

The good work done by Mr. Dan Smith, who, owing to illness, recently resigned from the post of secretary, is to be recognised by a presentation. This was decided at a meeting of the Society held at Ossett on February 8th, when 13 towers were represented.

The business meeting, which followed an excellent tea, had the president (Mr. N. F. Moxon) in the chair. A silent tribute was paid to L.A.C. Colin Michael Stephenson (20), of Ossett, who was fatally injured whilst riding pillion on a motor-cycle.

The next meeting will be at Penistone on March 8th and the annual outing will be in Derbyshire in July.

The vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. Wilfrid F. Moreton with special thanks to Mr. Fred Bennett and the local company for making the arrangements and to the ladies for the tea. Mr. Moreton spoke of the great welcome he had received from all ringers whilst he had been in the area during the past four and a half years.

Two plain courses of Stedman and Grand sire Caters were rung, but there was also a big variety of six- and eight-bell methods during the afternoon and evening.

Gratefully Acknowledged

The Editorial Committee acknowledge with gratitude the following donations towards the cost of producing 'The Ringing World':—

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD*Sonning Deanery

About 70 members attended the annual meeting of the Sonning Deanery Branch at Wokingham on February 15th, at which the Branch chairman, the Ven. Thorndike Shaw, welcomed the Deputy Master (Mr. F. Sharpe) and the general secretary (Miss Cross) of the Guild.

The Branch secretary reported that a good, steady membership had remained about the same for the past few years. He spoke of well-attended meetings and of the untiring efforts of the Ringing Masters, Messrs. W. J. Parkes and M. Smith, in ensuring that all got the practice they needed.

The officers were re-elected and the sum of £25 was voted towards the cost of re-hanging the bells of All Saints' Church, Wokingham.

Much concern was expressed over the curtailment of ringing at Wargrave following complaints by local residents, and Miss Cross offered to interview the Vicar on the subject.

The Rev. M. C. Clarke, Rector of East-hampstead, preached at the service, and tea was followed by a selection on handbells by young ringers of St. Michael's, Sandhurst.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD*Leatherhead District

The Leatherhead District at its annual meeting on February 8th, presided over by Mr. H. V. Young, decided to submit to the Guild annual general meeting that the Mastership shall not be held by any one person for more than three consecutive years. Nominations for Guild officers were: Master, Mr. C. W. Denyer and Mr. H. N. Pitstow; Mr. S. Russell and Miss R. Hide general secretary and treasurer and assistant; Mr. W. Parrott (Epsom), auditor.

A good start of the year was the election of 18 new members. District officers elected were: Ringing Master, Mr. H. V. Young; hon. secretary, Mr. A. H. Smith, with Miss Catherine Powell as his assistant; hon. auditor, Mr. A. H. Winch; general executive committee, Messrs. C. W. Munday and A. S. Harris.

It was decided to arrange a combined practice at Merrow and West Clandon. Cobham are holding an advanced practice on the first Wednesday in each month.

Mr. H. N. Pitstow proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar (Canon F. A. Page) for conducting the service, the Rev. C. Marshall (a welcome addition to the local band) for giving the address, the ladies for a jolly good tea, and to Mr. George Marriner for making the arrangements.

JOINT MEETING AT WOOLWICH

The quarterly meeting of the Lewisham District of the Kent County Association was held at St. Mary's, Woolwich, in co-operation with the Kent Branch of the Ladies' Guild. A total attendance of 70 kept the Ringing Master (Mr. A. S. Richards) busy.

Mr. E. A. Barnett (vice-president) presided at the Kent County Association meeting, when 12 members were elected. The passing of Mr. F. W. Richardson and Mr. H. Hovord was marked in the traditional way and tributes to their memory were paid by Mr. J. Dafters and Mr. R. A. Jenkins.

It was unanimously agreed that all tower secretaries be asked to ensure that the Association is adequately represented at the funeral of any member of their band.

Mr. A. S. Richards proposed a vote of thanks to the Ven. D. Brown, Archdeacon of Lewisham, for taking the service and for his address, to Miss Richards and her helpers for an attractive tea and to all who had contributed to the success of the meeting.

CHESTERFIELD RINGERS RESTORE THEIR HANDBELLS

A pleasant surprse awaited the Vicar, the Ven. T. Dilworth-Harrison, Archdeacon of Chesterfield, when he paid his customary visit to the ringing room at Chesterfield Parish Church on practice night, January 31st, and was shown a set of 26 apparently new handbells hanging in the handbell cabinet.

Actually these handbells were discovered when the tower was reopened ten years ago, and were in very poor condition owing to long disuse during the 25 years' period of inactivity in the belfry. The leather handles and the clapper pads were perished and the bells themselves were dull, both in tone and colour.

In due course they were despatched to the Whitechapel Bellfoundry for a complete overhaul and were received back in Chesterfield shortly before Christmas, 1957, just 70 years after the handbell cabinet was made, according to an inscription which is painted on the doors of the cabinet.

The ringers have borne the whole cost of the restoration between themselves, thus making the scheme a real 'belfry effort,' as the church authorities are under considerable expense in repairs to the crooked spire and the organ.

After congratulating the ringers on their achievement, the Vicar, at the request of the captain of the ringers, Mr. Sam Scattergood, offered a prayer of rededication and accepted the handbells once again into the service of the church. They will be a most valuable asset in the belfry for many years to come.

HOLY TRINITY, GUILDFORD, TO LOSE ITS CONDUCTOR

The prospect of losing their conductor, Mr. F. A. Munday, who will probably be going to Yorkshire on promotion, was announced to Holy Trinity Society, Guildford, at their annual supper. A company of 22 members and wives was present with the Provost in the chair.

The hon. secretary, Mr. T. W. White, reported a membership of 12 and three probationers. Four peals had been rung in the tower but none by the Society. Two honorary members—Mr. A. H. Hutton, who had retired after 60 years of active service in the tower, and Supt. R. J. C. Hagley, of Godalming—were welcomed.

Officers elected were: Conductor, Mr. F. A. Munday (until he leaves Guildford); sub-conductor, Mr. T. Mark White; steeplekeepers, Messrs. A. W. G. Oliver and Colin A. Hopper; hon. secretary, Mr. T. W. White.

Regret was expressed at the absence, through indisposition, of Mr. A. H. Pulling, and the good wishes of the company are to be conveyed to him.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD Nottingham District

A ten minutes' bus ride from the centre of Nottingham brings one to the suburb of Basford, where its old church is dedicated to the little-known St. Leodegarius, and the church has still its Norman masonry in the walls. 13th century work in the chancel, the nave arcades, the font and south doorway, and 15th century work in the south aisle and south porch.

In the tower hangs a grand ring of eight bells dedicated on July 4th, 1921, and this is where on February 1st the Nottingham District held their monthly meeting. The bells were rung up in peal at 2.45, just as some happy couple left the church. Mr. R. W. Carlisle was acting Ringing Master in place of Mr. Nicholls, and the bells were rung from rounds to various methods during the afternoon and early evening. A short business meeting was held and Nuthall selected for the meeting on March 1st. S. A.

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

There was a very cordial welcome at the happy Crewe Branch meeting at Holmes Chapel on February 15th to Mr. John Wheadon, who last month celebrated his 86th birthday and diamond wedding by ringing in a peal of Minor at Poynton—no mean feat for a lad of 86.

Others present included the Master of the Guild and Mrs. Clarke, the Deputy Master, Mr. A. R. Elkins and the hon. secretary of the Guild, Mr. K. M. Kingdom.

Ringling preceded the singing of the Guild Office and a sumptuous tea was provided by local ringers and served by their wives under the direction of the tower captain (Mr. L. Copnall). At the business Mr. Frank Stenson extended a welcome to all and regretted the absence of Mr. Jack Baston, through illness. The sympathy of the meeting, with wishes for a speedy recovery, is to be conveyed to him.

To an omnibus vote of thanks, ably moved by Mr. Derek Smith, short acknowledgments were made by the Vicar (the Rev. J. Culey), the Master, Deputy Master, Guild hon. secretary and the tower captain. Another hour's ringling was afterwards enjoyed.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

South Norfolk Branch

At the 24th annual meeting of the Branch held at Diss on February 8th and attended by 60 members and friends from 32 parishes, Dr. P. Jonason, who presided, presented Mr. A. G. Harrison with a book, 'Norfolk Churches,' by Munro Cautley, and a handsome writing set in appreciation of his 20 years of loyal and faithful service as Branch secretary until his retirement last year. The chairman feelingly spoke of Mr. Harrison's work, and this was endorsed by a former chairman, Mr. W. L. Duffield. Mr. Harrison suitably replied.

Officers re-elected were Dr. P. Jonason (chairman) and Mr. C. F. W. Phillippo (hon. secretary). Mr. W. G. Saunders was elected Ringing Master and Mr. L. Last and Mr. F. C. Arnold to the Standing Committee, Miss B. Syrett, Messrs. E. Whiting, H. Moss, F. C. Roper and W. Holt were elected to the Branch Committee.

The Rev. L. O. Kevnon (Rector) conducted the service and gave the address.

OBITUARY

MR. WILLIAM CLARKE

The death of Mr. William Clarke, following an operation in Newark General Hospital on January 23rd at the age of 88, has removed one of the last links with the famous band which rang with Sir Arthur Heywood at Duffield at the end of the last century.

Learning to ring at Duffield, his first peal was of Bob Triples on September 13th, 1888. In the next ten years he rang 35 peals; 34 were at Duffield, and 28 of these were conducted by Sir Arthur Heywood. These included 15 peals of Double Norwich Court Bob Major, along with Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Caters, Double Oxford, Duffield, London and Superlative Surprise Major.

From Duffield he moved to Lincol'n, where he rang peals at all the towers in the city. He was in the band which rang the first peal on the Cathedral bells after their restoration.

Retiring to Winthorpe, he rang with the local band until his recent illness overtook him. He was laid to rest in Newark Cemetery on January 31st, and among the floral tributes was one from his ringling friends in the Newark District.

W. L. E.

MR. FRED DENCH

With deep regret we announce the death of Mr. Fred Dench on Saturday at the Addenbrooke Hospital, Cambridge. Fred had been ill for one week with a cold, but on the Friday afternoon passed into a diabetic coma and was taken to Cambridge Hospital that night.

The funeral service will take place at Saffron Walden Parish Church, tomorrow (Saturday), at 2.30 p.m.

MR. JOHN HALL

The death occurred on January 6th of Mr. John Hall, of Keighley, Yorks, who had been a ringer at St. Andrew's Parish Church for over 50 years. His long service was recognised by the presentation of a gold watch suitably inscribed.

Mr. Hall joined the Yorkshire Association in 1905 and had rung 12 peals for the Association. Over his long period of service he was a most regular and consistent Sunday service ringer and he will be greatly missed by his colleagues in the belfry.
